regret. OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

Nearly every co-ident of Indiana has relatives friends, or ne ghbors in the Grand Army of the Union Indiana has sent her armed sone lute the field by thousands, and they are now stationed on the capes of North Carolina, along the Potomac, among the mountains of Virginia, or marching southward through Kentucky and Missouri. A few mouths may find some of them on the Gulf of Mexico, circamped before Fort Sumfer and Charleston, or occupying New Orleans. In nearly every Division of the army, we have regular correspondents, whose letters will appear in the columns of the Journal. OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.
